OLIVER / XIANG LI

EXPLORE

当义教成为一种“形式主义”

Beyond the Frame

同一次义教，每个人带走的感受并不一样。

The same experience can mean something different to everyone.

导演 / 拍摄 / 剪辑

Director / Cinematographer / Editor

Director Treatment

导演阐述

这部纪录片是用宣传片素材重新剪出来的。我担任导演、拍摄和剪辑。想让观众看到，同一次义教里，每个人都会找到自己的感受。

片名里有“形式主义”，但我并不想把宣传拍摄一概否定。有时，一张合照、一段活动视频，也会吸引更多人来参与。想把形式和身处其中的人放在一起看，而不是急着判断这次经历。

I re-edited footage originally shot for a promotional film into this documentary. I directed, filmed and edited it. I wanted to show how each person can find their own feelings within the same volunteer teaching experience.

The title questions formalism, but I do not dismiss promotional filming altogether. A group photo or an activity video can also encourage more people to take part. I want to look at these practices alongside the people involved, without rushing to judge the experience.

本人职责 / My roles

导演 / 拍摄 / 剪辑

Director / Cinematographer / Editor

Art Direction

原声与断叙 / Location sound & a fragmented narrative

我没有使用任何音效库或音乐库。片中的声音全部来自视频素材本身，保留了现场的人声和环境声。

剪辑上，我采用比较克制的手段，以“断叙”的方式表达这次经历。让片段之间留下间隔，不把所有感受都接成一条完整、顺畅的线。

I used no sound-effects or music libraries. Every sound comes from the footage itself, keeping the voices and ambience recorded on location.

I kept the editing restrained, telling the experience through fragments and breaks in the narrative. I left gaps between moments rather than joining every feeling into one continuous, neatly resolved story.